Absent—Gilbert and Kelly of Multnomah

Mr DULLY introduced Joint Memorial No 1 asking Congress to appropriate money not exceeding $30 000 to improve the bar at the mouth of the Coquille river so as to make it navigable for vessels of 300 tons burden

The memorial was laid on the table under the rules.

H M No 1—To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled Your memorialists the Legislative Assembly of the state of Oregon respectfully represent That the Coquille river is navigable from a point a short distance from the bar at its mouth for a distance of more than fifty miles that for the entire distance the bottom lands bordering its banks are from one to three miles in width and of unusual fertility that the river flows through vast forests of cedar fir spruce maple and myrtle timber that all of said timber and especially the white cedar is of great value to commerce that the forests bordering said river would furnish a supply therefor for half a century that there are at various points along the banks of said river vast deposits of coal and other minerals that the fertile bottom lands adjoining said stream are being settled by an industrious and thrifty population that the only drawback to its prosperity is that the bar at its mouth is obstructed by drifting sand so that only at certain seasons can vessels cross it that it is represented to your memorialists that by an expenditure of not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars said bar may be so improved as that it can be navigated with safety by vessels of three hundred tons burden that by thus improving the bar at the mouth of said river a vast area of public land, now comparatively valueless will become desirable for settlement and the vast resources in timber and minerals of said river will be developed and greatly add to the general wealth

Your memorialists therefore pray your honorable body to grant, out of the various appropriations made for the improvement of rivers and harbors such aid, not exceeding said sum of two hundred thousand dollars to be expended under the supervision of the proper officers of the United States as may be necessary to render said bar navigable

The memorial was laid on the table.

The quartz mill, that has been so long expected from Colorado by Brooks & Co of Jackson county has arrived, and is ready to start in operation next week They are well pleased with the machine and think it far ahead of anything of the kind in the country

S P Lee, of Clackamas is Treasurer of the State Grange, instead of B A. Witzell, of Marion The names of the Executive Committee include S W Brown, of Vancouver not W S Brown as we had it The Executive Committee is hard at work finishing the business left in its hands

A report has been circulated abroad that ladies and children will be charged an admission fee to the Fair grounds this year Mr Waite contradicts this statement All ladies and children under ten years of age accompanied by their parents, will be admitted free of charge as usual

The deficiency in the Indian service in Oregon will amount to at least $60,000, some of which is of long standing running back to the days of Metcalf and Miller There are about $10,000 of these old vouchers. An effort will be made at the coming session of Congress for an appropriation to cover these vouchers.

The following levy of tax was made at the last session of the Union County Court State tax, 5½ mills school tax 3 mills county contingent fund 2½ mills county fund 14 mills, total 25 mills Bills were allowed out of the county fund to the amount of $1 339 32 and out of the contingent fund to the amount of $677 16

The State Fair grounds have recently been surveyed, and a map drawn to a scale showing the exact position of every building on the premises, and each detail is delineated to a nicety by the surveyor, L H Judson, of Marion county The work is now being framed, and it will be placed on exhibition in the [illegible] during the [illegible]

[illegible] Washington letter [illegible] Thompson has obtained most of the Klamath Agency vouchers for collection, and by an arrangement made with the Indian Office and the Treasury Department, succeeded in getting all the Klamath vouchers allowed except less than $1 000 and on yesterday a requisition was issued from the Treasury Department for an amount sufficient to cover the deficiency, and the amount will be sent to Agent Dyar to-morrow with instructions to pay off all his indebtedness

The Salem Record says "A needle was taken last Saturday from the thigh of a babe 14 months of age, the child of Mr Foley who is employed in the woolen factory The child has always been in apparent good health rarely being fretful or uneasy Some three months since the mother noticed that the babe's leg was red and inflamed, and could feel the needle but could not tell what it was and as it did not seem to hurt the babe paid no attention to it Last Saturday while dressing the child the point of the needle was discovered to protrude from the flesh. It was easily drawn out and now the query is how long the needle has been there, or how it first came there

A letter from Washington City to the Sentinel says The last session of Congress passed a deficiency bill for the Indian service, amounting to half a million dollars about forty thousand of which was to pay deficiency in that branch of the service in Oregon There was a deficiency in the Indian service in Oregon of about $75 000, but a large amount had not been reported by the agents at Siletz and Malheur reservations, The Commissioner of Indian Affairs promised Senator Mitchell to submit an estimate for Malheur reservation but failed to do so Senator Mitchell made all the effort possible to have $17,000 added to the Deficiency bill in the Senate, but in the absence of a recommendation of the Commissioner he failed in having it adopted"

The LaGrande Sentinel says "Everything indicates that the Second Annual Fair of the Union County Agricultural Society will be a grand success Nearly every house-wife and farmer in the county will have something on exhibition great interest is being felt by many who last year did not assist in any manner in the success of the first Fair There are now thirty stables for race horses completed and twenty more are nearly completed Mr Caviness informs us that there are now forty-two horses in training to compete for the very liberal purses offered by the society There is no doubt that the fastest running time ever made in Oregon will be made at the coming Fair and for trotting time 2 40 will probably be beaten There will be present several noted trotters from abroad to compete for purses

The assessment roll for Union county for the present year shows 100 137 acres of land purchased from the State and occupied as homesteads and pre-emptions which is valued at $376 846 and the average value being $3 76 3 10 per acre The total value of town lots owned in this county amounts to $52,750 The improvements on lands amounts to $133 317, Merchandise and implements $188 195 money notes accounts, etc, $199 402 household furniture, $61,850, horses and mules 5 166 valued at $189 341, the average value being $36 65 1 10 cattle 17 122 valued at $174 342 at an average value of $10 18 2 10 per head sheep, 4 303 total value $12,027 and averaged at $2 33 4 10 per head swine, 6 152 total value $9 -864 average value $1 57 per head The personal indebtedness amounts to $406 955 and the amount of property exempt from taxation is $158 338 leaving a total of $833 149 taxable property from which to draw revenue.

The Statesman says the subject of the State Fair is discussed upon every street corner, and Salemites are devising ways and means of turning an honest penny during its annual occurrence Secretary Waite meanwhile is leaving no stone unturned that will in any way add to the interest of the occasion He receives and replies to a large number of letters daily written by would be exhibitors desiring information of one kind or another The Board of Directors authorized him some time since to negotiate, if possible, with Hon R R Thompson of Yamhill county, for the exhibition of his mammoth steam plow during the week in question on the Fair ground. Owing, however, to the immense size and weight of the necessary machinery it will be impossible to have it here, many of the intervening bridges being too weak to support such weight Mr Thompson regrets this fact, as he, too would be pleased to show the public how nicely it works, and that it is all that it is claimed to be

SECRETARY CHADWICK'S REPORT.

The Biennial Report of Hon. S. F. Chadwick, Secretary of State, is at hand. It opens with an allusion to the growth of public business in the Department of State, to criticisms upon present expenses of the State and past legislation connected therewith, and defends, in general terms, the financial administration of the last two years. The actual increase in current expenses is attributed by the Secretary to the support given to various educational and charitable institutions—the Agricultural College, the Mute School, the Orphan's Aid Society and the School for the Blind—all of which are of recent origin; to subsidies for the protection of commerce; to the development of the land interests of the State; to the increase in the number of Judges, Legislators and officers, and the enlargment of their duties. "One year's expense, alone, of the Insane Asylum and Penitentiary together," says the Secretary, "amounts to over one-half of the liabilities of the State, and about three times the amount it cost per annum to sustain the State Government [illegible] value "rather than on one-third or one-half of it." The responsibility of the legislative branch of the government is thus presented:

If a measure is important, it is presumed that the revenues will be ample to carry it through. This seems to be the idea in legislation. In proof of this, the revenues are seldom, if ever, considered by legislative bodies. In fact, they are almost entirely neglected, and Acts are passed without reference to them, and if the State becomes embarrassed thereby, the [illegible] are [illegible] for it. This mode of [illegible] is peculiar to our political system, and it is universal. The essential expenditures are often sought to be reduced to provide for non-essential incumbrances fastened upon the State through speculative legislation.

The Secretary does not sympathize with the proposition to reduce the salaries of the Judges of the Supreme Court. On this point he says:

The matter of compensation to Judges and officers should be considered with reference to its merits. If we take into consideration the [illegible] labors and expenses of the Judges, the present compensation is in no wise unjust. Fifteen years ago the salaries of the Judges were held to be sufficient for that day, by the people of this State. At least, though moderate, they were acquiesced in. Now, the duties and expenses of the office of Judge of the Supreme [illegible] have more than doubled. The question presented is, whether it is reform or economy to [illegible] reductions in compensation, while the labor and expense of the position increase. The so-called economy of legislation, in [illegible] has been its curse. The [illegible] which such [illegible] presents, is the [illegible] and the ruin of the public virtue which it is intended to strengthen and sustain. [illegible] Judiciary destroys confidence [illegible] as pure in fact. This is the natural view of the case. We contend for nothing more than a fair and adequate [illegible] for services, nothing beyond the popular sentiment among the people, that adequate compensation to those holding positions of public trust, and especially to the arbiters of our rights and liberties, closes the avenues to temptation, corruption, or even to suspicion or detraction.

The estimated expenses of the State government for the next two years [illegible] 350. The balances due the State from the several counties, on unpaid taxes, amount to $13,646 44. The total amount of State indebtedness is $598,256 17. The taxable property of the State was, in 1858, $22,[illegible],118; in 1873, $40,700,159, showing an increase in fifteen years of $17,876,041. The warrants drawn from Sept. 9, 1872, to Sept. 14, 1874, amount to $732,480 43. The population of the State, according to the Ninth U. S. Census, is 90,734, of which [illegible] 86,267 are whites.

HOW LAND IS SOLD FOR TAXES IN LOUISIANA.

One of the first acts of the Penn administration was the publication of an order by Graham, State Auditor, suspending tax sales ordered by the Kellogg government, and prohibiting Tax Collectors not holding commissions from Penn from acting. The record of Kellogg in the sale of lands for taxes is most infamous. Here is an item from the New Orleans [illegible], which gives the experience of Francis Lacroix, a Louisiana millionaire:

[illegible] in the idea that he has not promised to make any [illegible], and it is not. [illegible] that as each piece of property goes to a bidder he smiles with great irony and contempt. There he sits, equally callous and unregardful of what is going on, witnessing the dissipation of his fortune—a dissipation he could have prevented a week ago, and could still prevent if he saw fit. Yesterday he was a millionaire—next week he will be a pauper. When the day's sale is concluded—and it is progressing at the rate of $100,000 per diem—the old man walks slowly home, never saying a word to any one."

The Old Catholic Conference, called to meet at Bonne, by Dr. Dollinger, the famous German opponent of the dogma of infallibility, was a complete success. The Bishop of Pittsburg, who was a delegate on behalf of American P[illegible], thanked Dr. Dollinger for the manner in which he had conducted the deliberations of the Conference and presented written congratulations on the harmony manifested and the results accomplished. The Dean of Chester and other distinguished delegates, spoke in similar pleasant terms, and the Conference adjourned amid a general jubilee. This gathering, it is believed, marks a new epoch in Church history. Ten years ago it would have been altogether impracticable.

Russia, it will be remembered, refused to recognize the Spanish Republic. A recent cable dispatch declares that His Majesty the Czar has written a letter to Don Carlos, "assuring him of Russia's sympathy for him and his cause, and regretting that Spain depends upon her [illegible] traditions." One may expect to hear next that Russia has offered material aid and comfort to dying Carlism. The great [illegible] can hardly be expected to love republican institutions. We are also informed that Pope Pius IX. declines to recognize the young Republic. Considering that the Pope himself experiences some difficulty in getting recognized by the Great Powers just now, this refusal is not at all [illegible].

Barnum, P. T., has added to his list of humbugs, perhaps. During the session of the Universalist Convention in New York City, on the 16th inst., he was married to Miss Nancy Fish, of [illegible], England. The bride is 26 years of age, and the bridegroom is about 67 years of age. It is rumored that the great showman will put Nancy on exhibition as a mermaid—not an old maid. But that sounds rather Fish-y.

From European correspondence we learn that at the last [illegible] the number of [illegible] in Europe was 95,492,473; of Roman Catholics, 157,360,551; Greek Catholics, 67,141,095; Jews, 4,570,211; Mohammedans, 6,410,670, Pagans, 486,526.

FIRST BLOOD OF THE REVOLUTION.

The aged sexton of East Westminster, Vermont, has found a tombstone record which shows that the first blood of the Revolution flowed not at the battle of Lexington, as all our histories have it, but in a fight between the inhabitants of the little Vermont town above named and British troops, on the 13th of March, 1775.

This is the story of Old Mortality. In 1774-'5 the Whigs and Tories of that vicinity were about equally divided. The judges and juries were then appointed by the King. Frequent complaints had been made by the colonists, but their repeated petitions were "answered only by repeated injuries." The 13th of March, 1775, was the day appointed for the commencement of the term. The British authorities assembled in the old Court House, and speedily the colonists began to pour in from all quarters, armed and determined to resist. They attacked the officers of the law and drove them from the building, whereupon the troops fired, killing William French and mortally wounding Daniel Houghton. The bones of the first colonist killed in the Revolution lay forgotten and neglected for nearly one hundred years. Three or four years ago Wm. C. Bradley, then Congressman from Vermont, placed a tomb over the grave of French, and in 1872 the Legislature of Vermont appropriated $600 for a monument. A small slab at the head of the grave bears this inscription:

In memory of William French, Son of Na[illegible] Ministerial tools of George ye 3d, in the Courthouse at 11 a clock at Night, in the 22nd year of his age.

Following is an epitaph in the old style, which reads:

> Here William French his body lies
> For murder his Blood for Vengeance cries
> King George the third his Tory crew > that with a bawl his heart Shot threw.
> For Liberty and his Country's Good,
> he lost his Life, his Dearest blood.

The Brooklyn Eagle is one of those newspapers that have said too much in relation to the great scandal. Henry C. Bowen thinks so, at all events, and he is disposed to make the Eagle pay for its liberal use of his own and his family's name. He has brought another suit for $100,000, basing his claim on an article published in the Eagle, likening an enterprise in which he (Bowen) was engaged twenty years ago to the exploits of Captain Kidd. Bowen's suits against the Eagle for damages now foot up $300,000. Should he get all he claims there will be one man besides Tilton (and possibly Moulton) who will have made money out of Beecher's blunders. And perhaps Bowen will never again regret the $7,000 he paid to get rid of Tilton.

THE FATAL KEROSENE.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 8.—The wife of Wm. Stenhouse, of Grand Rapids, Lucas county, O., attempted last night to hurry up a smoldering fire in a kitchen stove, with a dose of kerosene, with the usual result. She lived only a few hours after the experiment.

STERLING, Ill., Sept. 8.—A terrible and fatal accident occurred to the family of Hiram Dennis, of this city, at noon to-day. His daughter Rose, some 20 years of age, attempted to kindle a fire in the cook stove with kerosene. The can, containing about a gallon, took fire and exploded, scattering the burning fluid all over the room. The girl, enveloped in flames, started toward the bedroom, where her aged and invalid mother was lying. The mother, hearing the explosion and the shrieks of her daughter, had arisen and got near the door, when she was met by her daughter, who threw her arms about her mother, and they both rushed out of doors. In less time than [illegible] crisp. She lingered about three hours, when death came to her relief. The mother was badly but not seriously burned. By the greatest exertions, the citizens succeeded in putting the fire out, and saved the house. Mr. Dennis was absent at the time, and the two unfortunates were the only persons in the house.

THIRD-TERM LUNACY.—An eight-page pamphlet, addressed to the Grand National Club at Atlanta, Ga., in favor of a third Presidential term, is now burdening the mails south, where large quantities are being sent. The author only gives his initials to the writing, because, as is stated in the prefatory remarks, he does not seek political notoriety. He says he is a Pennsylvanian, and a plain, blunt man; that the third-term candidacy will become an imperious necessity, irrespective of all party considerations, for many reasons, which he cites; among them, because the name of General Grant is "a tower of strength throughout the length and breadth of the land, which cannot be so truthfully said of any other man in the nation. It being a patent fact that the great work of reconstruction in all the States is not yet completed, it is an imperative necessity that the same strong hand and brave heart which have guided the good old ship of state through the turbulent waves since 1868, be not withdrawn from the helm until the ship has cleared the last breakers, and the hidden dangers shall prevent her from entering the haven safely, in lasting triumph and victory." And further, because Grant is "the champion and friend of internal improvements, the cheap transportation question, and others of like magnitude, involving the most vital commercial interests, not only for our own grand country, but those of the whole civilized world."

A NEWSPAPER SEMI-CENTENNIAL.—The Springfield (Mass.) Republican has just passed its semi-centennial anniversary, and avails itself of the opportunity to set forth some details of the good fortune which has befallen it almost uninterruptedly during the fifty years. It was founded by Samuel Bowles, Sr., and has been under the control of father and son during the entire half century. The paper has long occupied an honorable and influential position in the newspaper press of New England, being noted especially for its enterprise in the early collection and publication of important local news. It is seldom if ever dull, and while its views of public affairs have sometimes seemed to us to be mistaken ones, they have been ably presented, and apparently in a candid spirit. We trust that it will live to round out the full century prosperously.—N. Y. Times, Sept. 11.

ARREST OF BAZAINE'S ACCOMPLICES.—Paris, Sept. 17th.—The trial of Bazaine's accomplices was concluded to-day. The Wardens were adjudged guilty of negligence. Rull, who failed to appear, was condemned to ten months' imprisonment; Colonel Villette and Plainteu to six months, and the others to shorter terms.

BOTH MAD.—A newspaper correspondent having talked learnedly of George Francis Townsend and George Alfred Train, Townsend is reaching nervously for his umbrella, and Train is raving like a wild beast.

FOR LOVE AND MONEY.—It appears that a couple, whose names we will not give at present, but one of whom, at least, [illegible] well known in Portland, were [illegible] at Walla Walla—she for love, [illegible]. The Statesman tells the story thus, [illegible] that the woman had ducats and the young man parted his hair in the middle and wears high-heeled boots and tight pantaloons, but love was not the article his aching heart craved for. His was a mercenary love, and hers, poor girl, was platonic. After vainly endeavoring to possess himself of her accumulated earnings and failing, he proposed matrimony. He was accepted. The mercenary wretch, on the wings of anticipated twenties, flew to the Auditor's office, procured a license, secured a clergyman to bind the knot, and in a few hours after the two were made one, and therefore what belonged to her became his property. It is needless to say he took immediate possession. The day following the marriage the youthful husband left his bride, taking with him $700 of her earnings, saying he would return in a few minutes. Minutes passed, and so did the hours, and the day drew to a close, and still the bride waited in vain for the coming of her husband. He never came, for while she was waiting, he was on his way to Portland. Bereft of fortune and of husband, the unfortunate woman was compelled to negotiate a small loan by which she might follow in pursuit of the absconding wretch. The husband is supposed to be in Portland, where he is well known.

ADDITIONAL SPECIMENS.—Mr. Dave Raffety, of East Portland, is receiving constant additions to his private cabinet of curiosities, which has already assumed very respectable proportions. Prominent among the latest accessions to his museum, we observed a superb picture grotto, presented by Mrs. F. H. Lane, by whom it was executed. It is made wholly from Oregon mosses, of which there are a half dozen or more varieties used. She has evinced not only great skill and artistic ingenuity in the arrangement of the various mosses with regard to handsome effect, but most excellent taste and a cultivated eye for the beautiful. The picture is about four feet square, and 16 inches deep. It is neatly framed and covered with glass, which imparts a finished aspect to the whole view. Mrs. Lane made everything about the grotto, even to the frame. Mr. Raffety has also received 170 varieties of shells, embracing all sizes, shapes and colors. Some of these shells are scarcely superior in size to a wheat grain, and of beautiful hues. They are all arranged and classified by Mr. G. R. [illegible], the clever naturalist. Mr. [illegible], of Oregon City, has, with great difficulty, collected 38 varieties of [illegible] and other seeds, from different parts of the State, which he has donated to the cabinet. In the way of bones, minerals, vegetable growths and many other rare and curious specimens, Mr. Raffety has lately received numerous additions, which time and space forbid enumeration in this connection.

A PRIZE COMBAT.—Between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday, we are informed that a regular prize fight took place down on one of the wharves, between two large powerful men, engaged in some capacity about the vessels or wharf. During the time that those engaged about the docks were at dinner, these two pugilists stripped themselves down to the waist, chose their seconds and "pitched" into each other with evident gusto. [illegible] was fought according to the rules of the [illegible] when the fight terminated by one of the parties throwing up the sponge. Both of the parties were pretty well bloodied by the vigorous blows and thrusts which were given and received. We may have been misinformed about this disgraceful affair, but our information [illegible] very direct. If it is true, we [illegible] characterize such conduct as [illegible] and the participants ought to be punished severely. Prize fighting in an orderly and [illegible] community like Portland should not be tolerated under any circumstances. These fellows, if they are guilty, [illegible] in the clutches of the police [illegible]. It is said that the fight was witnessed by a small crowd, who seemed to be highly [illegible] witnessing the sparring [illegible].

DIVORCES.—If divorces can be regarded as a correct index of the social condition of a community, then our city and county [illegible] make a rather unfavorable showing. Society must be in a corrupt condition when Multnomah county can send up 25 divorce suits to be [illegible] of at one term of Circuit Court. Large as that number may appear, yet it is nevertheless true, as the Judicial records will show. At preceding terms of Court, the number of divorce suits has rarely ever exceeded 15; but since the June term, there has been a [illegible] gain of 10 above the average. At the [illegible] rate this county would send up annually [illegible] divorce cases, which in proportion to the population, will discount Chicago. Despite this unfavorable showing, the County Clerk is obliged to issue the usual number of marriage licenses. Experience is a "dear school," but it amounts to nothing in matrimonial affairs; at least the records of the county indicate as much.

NEW SLAUGHTER-HOUSE.—Notwithstanding the destructive fire of last Sunday morning, which consumed the large and valuable slaughter-house belonging to Messrs. Johnson & Spaulding, that firm has gone forward as if nothing had occurred. A barn, which stood a short distance away from the building that was destroyed, was hastily converted into a slaughter-house, and before sundown a sufficient number of animals to supply the demand were killed and dressed and ready early on Monday morning. Since the fire, a number of carpenters have been engaged in erecting a new slaughter-house near the site of the former one. The work will be crowded vigorously forward, and in a few weeks the new building will be ready to occupy.

NEW RAILROAD COMPANY.—In another column we publish the articles of incorporation of a new railroad company—the Oregon Pacific. The incorporators are well known citizens of Portland, some of them having had much experience in constructing and operating railroads. They affirm that they mean business, and that in addition to the heavy purses they bring to bear, there is a prospect that the Grangers of Eastern Oregon will put up some cash. Mr. J. L. Hallett proposes, we understand, to put in some of his railroad material now on hand, and build the portage railroads at an early day.

SENT TO ST. LOUIS.—Mr. Henry Dilg, who has invented a patent burglar-proof and alarm safe lock, mention of which was made a few days ago, forwarded, yesterday, by express, a model of the lock to his brother, Julius Dilg, of St. Louis. The Mechanics' Fair for that city will commence on Monday, October 5th, and Mr. Dilg will have his new lock on exhibition during its continuance. Favorable report of the invention may be expected before a great while. Mr. Dilg expects to receive his patent from Washington soon.

ANOTHER NEW WHARF.—A new wharf has been commenced by Dr. I. A. Davenport, on Front street, between Taylor and Yamhill. This structure will be two stories in height and have a frontage upon the river of 130 feet by 80 feet in depth. It has already been leased by Messrs. Creswell & Co., but for what purpose we could not positively learn. It is rumored, however, that it will be used in connection with the Seattle Coal Company.

WEATHER REPORT.—From the records of the U. S. Signal Station of Observation, Portland Oregon, September 22, 1874:

FIRST TRIP.—Yesterday morning the large new barge Columbia, belonging to the O. S. N. Co., was taken in tow by the steamer Annie Stewart and landed at the eastside depot. The Columbia received a large quantity of grain, which will be carried down the river to lighter some of the large vessels. It was the maiden trip for the barge.

MET AND ADJOURNED.—Circuit Court was called yesterday morning at the Court House. Judge Shattuck being absent, the Court was adjourned until this morning at 9 o'clock. Should His Honor Judge Shattuck still be absent, Court will adjourn until Monday, October 5th, at 9 o'clock.

THE OREGON PACIFIC RAILROAD

A Company was incorporated yesterday to build a railroad, under the above title by articles of incorporation as follows

First—The name assumed by the corporation hereby to be formed, and by which it shall be known shall be The Oregon Pacific Railroad Company and its duration perpetual

Second—The business in which this corporation proposes to engage is the construction and operation of a line of railroad from Portland Oregon by the way of the Columbia river valley through Idaho and Utah Territories to a connection with the transcontinental line of railroad formed by the Central and Union Pacific Railroads with the privilege of building portage railroads around the obstructions to navigation in the Columbia river, and operating steamboats on said river until such time as the whole line of said railroad shall have been completed and put in operation

Third—The principal office of said corporation shall be kept in the city of Portland Oregon

Fourth—The capital stock of said corporation shall be ten million dollars divided into one hundred thousand shares

Fifth—The amount of each share of said capital shall be one hundred dollars

Sixth—The northwestern terminus of said railroad shall be at Portland Oregon and the southeastern terminus shall be at such point on the Union or Central Pacific Railroads as shall be hereafter determined by actual survey

In witness whereof we have here set our hands and seals and acknowledged the same to be our act and deed this 22d day of September A D 1874

AMUSEMENTS.

Katie Holloway's circus opened at the corner of Morrison and Fifth streets, last evening to a packed house We observed among the performers a number of familiar faces. Of the best acts we noted the riding of Miss Holloway Warner's comicalities as well as the younger clown's whose performances were, in the main quite fresh and pleasing Mr Holland's tumbling over nine horses proved a feature Some of the sayings and acts were quite tedious and to give more satisfaction should be abreviated One of the performers was unable to appear having met with an accident at one of the Sound towns He is one of the best We presume he will put in an appearance this evening New features will be presented to night

O Brien is willing to be interviewed on the question of tobacco or cigars

TELEGRAPHIC.

The westside telegraph line between Portland and St Joe is now in splendid operating condition having recently been repaired

The new line between Roseburg and Yreka—a distance of 150 miles has been completed and regular dispatches have been transmitted over it for several days For that distance the line is entirely new

Since the completion of the new line between Roseburg and Yreka the company are causing the old line to be torn down The old wire and poles are condemned so to speak by the company and will not be used in the construction or repairing of other lines but will be sold Farmers along the route are purchasing large quantities of the old material and employing it for a variety of purposes By the time the line is torn down the company will have but little of the old material on hand in all probability

Between Shedd and Millers Station—11 miles—the poles of the line are in a badly decayed condition and will with but few exceptions have to be removed soon However the wire is in good order and will last for some years to come For the distance of 12 miles between Aurora and Brooks Station small composition wire is used which is deemed inadequate The company propose to take down this wire and replace it with No 9 No other repairs are required for that distance as the poles are all sound Repairs to these portions of the line will be commenced about the 1st of October

A few days ago a party returned to the city from the Sound This party has been making slight repairs to all the lines between Seattle and Portland and putting them in the best possible condition for the coming winter Trails have been opened overhanging branches lopped off and underbrush which has grown up so as to interfere with the line cut away Temporary bridges have also been constructed across swamps and tide marshes to allow a horseman to follow the line in the event of its prostration Unless the coming winter proves unusually severe and heavy storms prevail there will be no necessity for repairing the line over on the Sound before next spring

Mr Richmond, the general repairer and builder for the W U T Company, is now engaged in repairing the line beyond Yreka He has a team and is assisted by three men together with all necessary materials, appliances etc to make needed repairs It is the intention of the company to cause the entire line between Yreka and Sacramento to be overhauled With the exception of about 40 miles the line is comparatively new and will require but little attention No repairs will be needed beyond replacing here and there an insulator or a piece of wire For the 40 miles considerable overhauling will be required That portion of the line has been built for about five years New wire will have to replace the old for the greater part of the distance and the rotten condition of most of the poles will require the substitution of new ones before the line can be put in good operating order Mr Richmond is pushing the work rapidly forward It will probably be the 1st of November before himself and party will reach Sacramento

The Character of Beecher's Committee—The Brooklyn Argus, Tilton's personal organ does not endorse the wholesale attacks upon the gentlemen who were appointed by Plymouth Church to investigate the charges against Mr Beecher In defending the members of the committee, it gives us some idea of the character and position of the men who composed the committee of investigation and who signed the report acquitting him First of all Mr Claflin is the most extensive wholesale dry goods dealer in America He is said to have thirty thousand customers and there is not a town of five hundred inhabitants in the country in which he has not one or more friends who will believe in Mr Claflin's verdict Mr Henry W. Sage is a gentleman of vast wealth He donated $300 000 to Cornell University in Central New York and he established the Beecher professorship at Yale College These institutions with their various ramifications, believe in Mr. Sage's verdict, and through their influence many churches are controlled. Mr John Winslow is District Attorney of Kings county a man of unsullied reputation—not bigoted nor even a church member, and with no especial reasons to favor Mr Beecher. His verdict carries conviction to a large legal constituency All of the other gentlemen, Messrs Cleveland Storrs and White are equally intelligent and sincere men with separate and large constituencies No person knowing either of these gentlemen will doubt their word Probably no committee was ever formed which could compare with the Beecher committee in influence and in the standing of its individual members They could not if they were so inclined afford to sign a paper declaring Mr Beecher to be innocent when they knew him to be guilty and for ourselves we are willing to accept their verdict

Professor Elliot, of Washington has prepared and not long since read a deeply interesting paper before the American Association at Hartford on the subject of the future population of the United States He has based his calculations upon the average increase of population as shown by an examination of several of the latest censuses omitting any sudden increase or decrease which may have sprung from an extraordinary cause On June 1st 1874 Professor Elliot shows that the population of the United States was 43 104 000 which was an increase of over four and one half millions since the census of 1870 On this the basis estimate for 1875 is 44 384 000 for the next year 46 827 000 and for 1880 the year for the next regular census 50,5[illegible] 000 A census will probably be taken in 1875 for the purpose of recording accurately the population and statistical growth of the nation for the first hundred years of its existence

The Little Church Around the Corner—The little church around the corner has [illegible] been lost to sight though to the actor's memory it continues dear Its rector the Rev Mr Houghton has again been heard from by the play actors this time paying a tribute to the genial Mark Smith The applause with which his letter was received by the professional people who had gathered to read the epilogue to the rounded drama of their brother's life, evinced the lasting respect and affection which the manly performance of a simple duty won for him Houghton is kindly remembered What by the way was the name of the church which refused to say the burial service over poor Holland—Chicago Times

There is that in every animal's eye, a dim image and gleam of humanity a flash of strange light through which their life looks out and up to our great mystery of command over them and claims the fellowship of the creature if not of the soul—Ruskin

OREGON CITY ITEMS

Our correspondent sends the following

Mr C E Murray removed his family to California by the last steamer They will be missed by a large circle of friends in this community

Grain is coming in very lively now The mills are paying Portland prices and consequently they are filling fast. They are now running to their full capacity

John Myers, Tony Noltner and Cary Johnson went to Salem yesterday The former to rejoin the Senate and the two latter to look after the interests of the "Third House"

This pleasant weather seems to wake up the passions of pugnacious individuals, thereby giving the Prosecuting Attorney something to do On Friday last two fights occurred Two of the parties were arrested one was acquitted and the other convicted.

On Monday a couple of individuals who did not believe in "Chinese cheap labor" knocked down and otherwise maltreated a Chinaman for which they were arrested and plead guilty to a charge of assault and battery, for which they were each fined $5 and costs

The building designed for an office for the Enterprise is now finished and I presume the printing material will be moved into it in a few days The fact that Dr Thessing rented his building to the county for a Court House made it necessary for the Enterprise to seek other quarters.

On Sunday night the house of Mr Strickler, of Canemah was burglarized and a fine pair of pants was stolen together with $40 or $50 which the pockets of the pants contained On the same night Mr Bristow's dwelling was treated in a like manner and a quantity of clothing abstracted

Stupid—An obtuse English critic has again been deceived by the volatile American humorist Our readers probably remember the grave announcement which has freely circulated in the newspapers lately that Mr Bayard Taylor has discovered, during his recent Egyptian travels, the letters which passed between Joseph and Potiphar's wife The writer of the paragraph alluded to the fact that only "one side of the story was known and expressed the hope that Mrs Potiphar's statement would now be heard The London Academy takes the jest in earnest and says condolingly It is easy to see how this rumor may have arisen viz from certain resemblances to the story of Joseph in the Egyptian novel first translated by De Rougé Anyhow we fear the enterprising editors of the American papers will be disappointed

If you want something that is new and nobby in the way of Clothing we would advise you to call on KOHN who recently brought up an entire new Stock of these goods He is in the best humor over the fact that he has the finest stock in town When you have the call and look over the goods and if Kohn can't satisfy you why you can put yourself down as a poor judge of clothing and what a reasonable charge is

First of the Season—Last week Messrs Peck & Waldman opened the first lot of Fall Styles in Clothing The purchase was made by Mr Beck while in San Francisco and he has certainly made a most excellent selection The styles are new and will find a ready sale Beck & Waldman are making a specialty of Boys' Clothing, and fond parents should note this when they are out buying clothing for their darlings Now is the time Prices low goods to suit all classes. Call and examine No trouble to show goods

"Not very Well."

A feeling of vague bodily discomfort which does not amount to positive illness and yet is incompatible with health is often aptly described by the phrase Not very well This feeling usually arises from a deficiency of the nervous power which is required to keep the vital machinery in vigorous and healthful operation Nervous weakness has too frequently its fountain in the presence of some serious malady but [illegible] of any doubt in the matter Inactivity of the bodily functions as surely begets their derangement as cause precedes effect It is therefore absolutely essential for the preservation of health perhaps of life itself that this warning should be promptly heeded The case does not admit of delay Revitalize the system at once and effectually with Hostetter's Bitters—that peerless invigorant which by infusing new life and strength into the system protects it against disease more surely than ever knight of old was protected by armor of proof against the foe

THE EARLY DAYS

SOME OF THE THINGS OUR CHILDREN MISS — HOW PEOPLE DRESSED, WENT TO CHURCH AND DANCED IN TENNESSEE SIXTY YEARS AGO—NEW AND SURPRISING STORIES ABOUT ANDREW JACKSON

Judge Joseph C Guild (Old Joe Guild as he is familiarly called at home), is a native of Houston County, Tenn Lately he returned there after an absence of more than half a century and on the 5th of August he made a public speech from which the following extracts are taken

SOCIAL CUSTOMS

When I left sixty years ago industry and economy were the handmaids of virtue contentment and happiness The women and girls clothed the family, cooked the meals and did the various work all contented and happy voluntarily laboring to secure a competency for the household Families in those days were not enervated and ruined by luxuries—what is called high living and fashion They [illegible] by their honest labor, the boys in their jeans and copperas cotton, and the girls in their beautiful stripes of cotton and linsey Dresses were made to fit their persons and develop their natural and beautiful forms. One cannot tell now which is the girl and which is the dress I have looked about over this large assembly to see if I could find one of those beautiful striped dresses setting off the rosy mountain pinks of the present day but the ancient customs have disappeared since I have been gone. In that day but few mothers and daughters ever had a calico dress to say nothing of the silks cashmeres muslins, capes and poplins of the present day In those days we had our sugar camps, made our own sugar, coffee was bought at our commercial cities and only used on Sundays Milk, the best and most healthy beverage in the world was daily used, and the rose blossomed and played upon every girl's cheek There was no calomel doctor's bill to pay. We had meetinghouses in those days made of logs and clapboards. We called it going to meeting The elegant phrase now is to attend church and go in buggies and carriages We walked from three to five miles in going to meeting playing with the girls all the way I have seen not further than five or six [illegible] place from fifty to one hundred ladies walking bare-footed to meeting, carrying their shoes and stockings in their hands and on arriving sitting down along the branch washing their beautiful feet, putting on their stockings and shoes preparatory to going in. There is a charm in a pretty foot In those days our women did not deform their persons with artificial works about the head in the form of rats chignons and waterfalls. There was no rouge bespattering the rosy cheek, destroying its natural beauty nor were their beautiful forms destroyed by the hoop or bustle, there was no one taken in by artificial false appearances. In those days our beautiful women had long, natural black hair some auburn some red with different shades of [illegible]. They wore it plaited forming a beautiful crescent upon the head and when the stream of eloquence copiously flowed over the large assembly when all the fires were lit up, I have heard this plaited hair pop like the crack of a wagon whip Girls and boys did not in those days wear shoes until they arrived at the age of twelve The boys helped tend the crop in the summer and went to the [illegible] school with the girls [illegible] we had the favorite reel [illegible] Mrs. McCloud When the word was given 'Hands all round set-to and find your partners giving all full space to display their activity and gymnastic, skill in the various steps of ancient times, I [illegible] both boys and [illegible] the single and double [illegible] of excite[illegible] brilliant [illegible]

A RATTLESNAKE STORY

If it will not fatigue you ladies I will tell you a snake story of the olden times A neighbor, [illegible] and one child, built his cabin on a flat rock among the cliffs The rock furnished him with a substantial floor impervious to floods, but not to snakes Upon this rock Peter built his cabin his winter fires were built in the center of the house the chimney, a stack of rocks and mud protruded through the roof and carried off the smoke. The fire [illegible] during the winter upon this floor, early in the spring thawed the snakes. He and his wife and child occupied their only bed in a corner, elevated some two feet from the rock Just before day he was awakened by the crawling of snakes over the bed, and [illegible] all over the house. He [illegible] that his cabin was infested with snakes. It was dangerous to attempt to walk across the rock floor to the door as he could not avoid being enveloped by snakes so he whispered to his wife to cover up her head and that of the child with bedclothes, and hold them down, and remain so until his return, as he was going to escape through the roof of the house and bring her relief by morning. He thus escaped and alarmed the neighbors who assembled at the break of day with guns and ropes They examined the situation, and found that the floor and bed were covered with snakes They got to the roof, made an opening let down ropes that had running nooses and after great care and difficulty they were placed under the arms of his wife and she holding to her child they were safely drawn up and thus saved from destruction The rattlesnakes herd together and lie dormant under the rocks and cliffs and this rock happened to be their winter headquarters, and being thawed by the fire that night they took up their line of march. There were upwards of 100 slain that morning, and found among the embers of the burned cabin I do not know how it is now but I know that 60 years ago this was an awful snake country But I suppose that the snake like the bear the panther, wolf, and Indian, has retired before the approach of civilization, and is now but seldom seen

HOW OLD HICKORY BROKE UP A RACE.

Many are the interesting scenes of Jackson's life which his biographer has not brought to light When a boy I saw him scare and put to flight 20 000 men The occasion was this Grey Hound a Kentucky horse had beaten Double Head a Tennessee horse, and they were afterward matched for $5,000 a side to be run on the Clover Bottom Course. My uncle, Josephus H Conn carried me on horseback behind him to see the race He set me on the cedar fence and told me to remain until he returned There must have been 20 000 persons present I never witnessed such fierce betting between the [illegible] Money and negroes were put up A large pound was filled with horses and negroes bet on the result of this race The time had now arrived for the competitors to appear on the track I heard some loud talking and looking down the track, saw for the first time Gen Jackson riding slowly on a gray horse, with [illegible] he held in each hand I think they were as long as my arm, and had a mouth that a ground squirrel could enter In his wake followed my uncle Conn Stokely Donelson Patton Anderson and several others, as fierce as bull dogs As Gen Jackson led the van and approached the judges stand he was rapidly talking and gesticulating As he came by me he said that he had irrefragable proof that this was to be a jockey race that Grey Hound was seen in the wheat field the night before which disqualified him for the race, and that his rider was to receive $500 to throw it off and by the [illegible] he would shoot the first man who brought his horse upon the track that the people's money should not be stolen from them in this manner He talked incessantly, while the spittle rolled from his mouth and the fire from his eye I have seen bears and wolves put at bay, but he was certainly the most ferocious looking animal that I had ever seen His appearance and manner struck terror into the hearts of 20 000 people If they felt as I did every one expected to be slain He announced to the parties if they wanted some lead in their hides, just bring their horses on the track for by the eternal he would kill the first man that attempted to do so There was no response to this challenge and after waiting some time and they failing to appear Gen Jackson said it was a [illegible] mistake in the opinion of some that he acted hastily and without consideration He would give the scoundrels a fair trial, and to that end he would constitute a Court to investigate this matter who would hear the proof and do justice to all parties Thereupon he appointed a Sheriff to keep order and five Judges to hear the case Proclamation was made that the Court was open and was ready to proceed to business and for the parties to appear and defend themselves Not long [illegible] Gen Jackson introduced the witness proving the bribery of Grey Hound's rider, who was to receive $500 to throw off the race, having received $150 in advance, and that Grey Hound had been turned into the field the night before He again called on the parties to appear and counteract the proof and vindicate their innocence. They failing to appear Gen Jackson told the Court that the proof was closed and for them to render their judgment in the premises which, in a few moments, was done in accordance with the facts proved I was still on the fence forming one line of the large pound containing the property bet on the race Each man was anxious to get back his property Gen Jackson waved his hand and announced the decision, and said, Now gentlemen go calmly and in order and each take his own property When the word was given the people came with a rush It was more terrible than an army with banners The crowd bulging against the fence and in the struggle to get over they knocked it down for hundreds of yards I was overturned and was nearly trampled to death Each man got his property, and thus the fraudulent race was broken up A [illegible] exhibition of the most extraordinary courage He did that day what it would have required 2,000 armed men to have effected And this was effected by the presence and action of one man and [illegible] the drawing [illegible] of blood

[illegible] JACKSON [illegible]

I will give you another scene in Gen Jackson's life Gen Jackson was the Attorney General for all Middle Tennessee The two Kirkendalls were the great bullies of that creek They were spirited and powerful men They held [illegible] at the sitting of the court taking such jurisdiction invaded their dominions and they went in a bullying manner and dispersed the court and ordered it never to meet again Gen Jackson heard of it and attended the next term carrying upon his arm his saddle bags containing his long black bull dogs He placed his saddle-bags in a corner of the house The Justices took the bench and the Sheriff proclaimed the court open The Kirkendalls appeared and ordered the court to disperse In the confusion and terror of the hour the Sheriff failed to arrest the parties and restore order At this juncture Gen Jackson appeared before the court and denounced the bullies and their conduct and told the court if they would appoint him their officer he would arrest them and have order His proposition was readily accepted Jackson seized one of the Kirkendalls, who was a terror to the country They clinched and got outside and being on the edge of the bluff, the bully threw Jackson and they rolled over and over down the bluff into the creek When the bully thought he had conquered Jackson he left him But the old game-cock came rushing up the hill as wet as an otter, in search of his bull dogs He grasped them and pointing one at each of the bullies, arrested them and brought them before the court They were heavily fined and order was restored and the thanks of this court were extended to Gen Jackson

Wheat in Liverpool by mail advices from San Francisco 10s 2d@10s 6d for average California and 10s 7d@11s for club

As [illegible] yesterday, the demand for available funds is perceptibly increasing but such has been the conservatism of the banks that no embarrassment is felt in meeting the increased inquiry and still further assurances are felt that the monetary supply will be ample for all probable emergencies of the fall and winter trade There have all along been opportunities to place money upon fair terms, but unless the paper which offered was considered prime or the security first class capitalists were disposed to withhold their aid from speculative enterprises. Grain buyers are the largest inquirers at present Other merchants appear to be well situated as to funds and unless the volume of trade shall greatly increase they will be able to control it during the entire season without outside aid

It seems that the grain interests of the West are awakening an attention in the minds of capitalists which is not second to that bestowed upon any other industry of the country It is reported in a New York dispatch that a large combination of capitalists grain dealers bankers and railroad men is being formed for transporting grain from the West to the Atlantic seaboard and Europe and for protecting sales of wheat in London on commission negotiations being effected in this country by telegraph The main office will be in New York with [illegible] in Chicago, St. Louis San Francisco and other Western cities and in London and Liverpool The prospectus shows that the promoters of this enterprise have already established strong business and financial connections both in England and in the United States, with large credits for the transaction of business on an almost unlimited scale Contracts it is also said have been entered into with railroad and steamship companies for cheap and uniform rates of transportation

Orville Grant the President's brother is said to be one of the chief promoters of the enterprise An office is to be opened in New York this week and an agent to be sent to Europe immediately The dispatch says

The agent at Chicago will pay the farmer 85 per cent in cash according to the price of wheat in London on that day Fifteen per cent will be held back until the wheat reaches its destination to cover [illegible] and commission, when the farmer will receive the final payment of the balance due The commissions will be ½ per cent The company will also have a large profit from the sale of its exchange on London. The farmer will be benefitted by making prompt sales at London prices less commission only and will gain the advantage of the cheap transportation secured by the company They will avoid paying the present enormous expense of making sales

Oregon Flour

Last year the first important shipments of flour were made from our State to Europe and it was a question of some interest as to whether it would retain its good quality during the long voyage hence and arrive in such condition as to meet with favor That it is not damaged by the voyage has been clearly demonstrated by the fact noted in our columns last week that the ship Middlesex had returned to this port after a voyage of fifteen months passing through the tropics twice and yet some of the flour from the Imperial Mills at Oregon City taken on board here in July 1873 is yet unconsumed and is entirely sweet untainted and free from mustiness and sourness But we are informed that as our flour has not yet gained a reputation among the English people rather more difficulty is experienced in placing it in the English markets than is found with our wheat the good quality of which is generally recognized. Hence a good deal of the flour shipped from here last year has not yet been sold From what we can learn, the breadstuffs market of England is almost entirely under the control of Boards of Trade Produce Exchanges and similar organizations in the large cities, and it is difficult for any one to negotiate a cargo on the outside and nearly all business in these commodities must be transacted through these channels The fact however that Oregon flour can be landed in England in good condition being settled only leaves the matter of the opening of that market for it a question of time sure to be decided in our favor and that at no distant day

Wheat Market

Since our review of yesterday was written we learn that prices have declined ten cents per cental Shippers who were in pressing want of a few cargoes having secured enough to meet their wants now feel disinclined to pay more than $1 40 ℔ cental The purchases made at $1 50 ℔ cental aggregated about 6,000 tons while a few lots have been bought at less When asked why the decline is made here when no corresponding reduction is noted in the foreign markets exporters say that the advance was made when no corresponding advance had taken place in those markets and only to secure cargoes for ships on demurrage and this object being effected prices necessarily drop to the former figures. It is highly probable that but little will be sold for a while at the reduced offer and when that now [illegible] sold has arrived we expect another short lull in the market

Shipping Intelligence

The steamship Ajax arrived from San Francisco at 6 o clock this evening, with a full freight of general merchandise

The ship Orissa now at the east side wharf will probably go down the river to morrow to complete her cargo

The Marianna will also drop down the river in a day or two

The bark Zulette has drawn alongside Flanders wharf where she is discharging ballast

The steamer Gussie Telfair has sailed for San Francisco, where she will undergo repairs.

The American bark Clara has drawn alongside the Gas Company's wharf and will begin to discharge ballast to-morrow

The Moonbeam has received a part of her cargo and the balance is secured.

Should the Middlesex not be chartered her owners may purchase a cargo on their own account She is still at Astoria

The bark Cambridge left San Francisco for Portland last Saturday

[illegible] Produce Market.

WHEAT—Receipts both of purchases in the interior and of lots for storage are quite free though we hear of but few sales As indicated above offers have declined to $1 40 per cental, tending to check transactions for the time being. The harvest has now almost closed and farmers begin to inquire for purchasers

FLOUR—The market is well supplied [illegible] the product of the new wheat crop being quite liberal. We quote best brands of extra, $[illegible] per bbl our ideal and country brands $[illegible] up; fine, $4 The demand for shipment to San Francisco is dull at present as the commodity bears almost as high price here as there. The shipments to the northward are limited but increasing. The home trade is active as usual

OATS—The reports of a shorter [illegible] of the new crop than was expected [illegible] the effect to keep prices steady and quotations are still furnished at 37½@42½c per bushel, sacked, the latter figures being only for choice lots. Some extra lots of superior oats have sold for 45 cents per bushel The receipts of the week so far have been small for the season

BARLEY—We hear of but few transactions and these mostly of lots to supply the local trade For best bright lots the ruling rates are $1 [illegible] per cental while inferior [illegible] for feed commands $1 [illegible] Receipts of the new crop are light

FEED—The market is in rather better supply but rates are not changed in important particulars since our last review. We quote bran at $12@14 per ton, shorts, $16@18 chopped middlings etc $18@20

HAY—The receipts of the past week have been large and have found dull sale at $[illegible] per ton for baled timothy [illegible] for loose [illegible] dull at [illegible] a ton

POTATOES—The receipts are very liberal and prices are rather weaker than at the [illegible] Choice varieties [illegible] are worth [illegible] cents per bushel but common [illegible]

ONIONS—[illegible] to arrive to market but the demand not being brisk is fairly supplied at $1 25@1 50 per 100 lbs

RIPE FRUITS—A very full supply of all seasonable varieties is at hand and prices are low with a wide range. We quote apples at 40c@50 cents per box pears 40@60c plums [illegible] peaches, 80@10c

DRIED FRUIT—The market is weaker apples quotable at [illegible] per ℔ Demand sluggish Plums unchanged

LARD—The market is still firm at 14@[illegible] cents ℔ ℔ in kegs and tins

BUTTER—The demand for choice roll is active and an advancing tendency is noticed for such which is quotable at 25@28 cents ℔ ℔ good packed [illegible] common 12½@[illegible] cents.

CHEESE—Best Oregon brands are in fair request at 16@18 cents ℔ ℔

EGGS—Receipts are larger and prices are weakening We quote at 25@27 cents per dozen

CHICKENS—For grown hens choice lots are quotable at $4@4 25 per dozen mixed lots and spring chickens $2 75@3 50

BEEF CATTLE—The arrivals now supply the demand amply and are generally in good condition On foot choice lots of young steers quotable at 3c [illegible] common at [illegible]

MUTTON SHEEP—Several fine droves have reached this market recently for which were paid [illegible] $1 [illegible] 2 [illegible] head quotable here at [illegible]

BACON—Some receipts from the upper Columbia were needed, the supply of hams and sides being light Prices are likely to remain at present comfortable figures until the beginning of the packing season Quotations for good lots of country cured, are 11@13 cents ℔ ℔ for sides, 9@10 cents for shoulders and 12@16 cents for hams

DRESSED HOGS—Receipts are light as is the demand quotable at 5½@6c ℔ ℔

TALLOW—Quotable at 6c [illegible] ℔ ℔ with a fair demand

HIDES—Receipts have fallen off, demand for shipping free at 15@16c ℔ ℔ for choice dry 6@7c for green and green salted If any blemishes in hides offered, reduction on our figures must be made

WOOL—But few transactions are noted Eastern markets keep well up prospect for fall clip good quotations nominal at [illegible]@25c ℔ ℔
